

Your second farm

From level 40 you can start the whole game again “ keeping everything you've earned the right to keep, and choosing how hard you want the next run to be.

HOW IT WORKS

Prestige

Once you reach level 40, you can prestige. Your farm goes back to level 1 and you start again “ but your zombies are safe, your collection is safe, and you come away with prestige points to spend on permanent upgrades that apply to this farm and every farm after it.

Waiting pays. The base award is 5 points at level 40 and one more for every level you climb after that, so a run you take all the way to 45 is worth double one you cut short at 40.

BASE AWARD BY THE LEVEL YOU RESET AT

LEVEL	40	41	42	43	44	45
Points	5	6	7	8	9	10

Before you confirm, you choose your modifiers “ optional handicaps that make the run harder and pay more points. You're paid when the run ends, at your next prestige: the base award for the level you reset at, plus the value of every modifier you still have switched on.

Your prestige count appears as a purple number next to your level, wherever your level is shown.

THE RESET

What you keep, what you rebuild

The short version: your buildings always go. Your graves, monoliths, Zombie Patch, Mausoleum, shed and Zombie Pots all have to be bought again, which is what puts the early game back in front of you.

YOU KEEP

Prestige points and every upgrade you've bought • your zombies, safely in the Vault • your Zombie and Mutation Almanacs • your lifetime statistics, plus a fresh set for the new run • farmer heads and bodies, pets, ground skins and climates • your decorations, your Received items and your farm size • friends, Black Market history, PvP record, and your memorials

YOU REBUILD

Gold, brains, XP and level • any boosts you were holding • every building • graves, monoliths, Zombie Patch, Mausoleum, shed and Zombie Pots • your zombies' ability unlocks • invasion win counts and quest progress

YOU LOSE

Anything still growing in the ground, including zombie crops • and anything inside a Zombie Pot

BEFORE YOU PRESTIGE

Collect your Zombie Pots first. A combine that's still running when you reset is lost, and it doesn't come back.

Your shed is the one building that doesn't lose what's inside it. Its capacity resets like the others, so you can take things out but not put things in until you've bought a new one. Zombies in the Mausoleum aren't lost either • they go into the Vault along with the ones on your farm.

Bound items

Everything that comes through a reset with you is bound until level 40. Bound items sell for no gold, and bound zombies can't be listed on the Black Market. Nothing is taken away from you • you just can't cash any of it in until the new farm has caught up. At level 40 it all returns to its normal value.

THE VAULT

Your zombies are waiting for you

When you prestige, every zombie you own • on the farm and in the Mausoleum alike • goes into the Vault. Nothing is sold and nothing is lost.

You get them back one at a time. Each one costs 1 brain, and becomes available once you've reached the level where you could normally obtain that zombie: an invasion prize returns when its invasion opens, an Epic Boss prize when its event opens, and ordinary zombies when their colour class does. Your Vagabond is waiting, but you'll be earning it back the long way.

A zombie comes back with its name, its colour and its veterancy rank intact.

Mutations don't come back – the Zombie Pot is a fresh start every run.

The Vault never fills up. You can delete an entry if you want the space, but you'll be asked to confirm – a deleted zombie is gone for good.

MODIFIERS

Choose your own difficulty

Modifiers are handicaps you turn on when you prestige. Take as many as you like – every one adds to the points you'll earn when the run ends.

YOU CAN ALWAYS BACK OUT

If a run turns out harder than you wanted, you can switch a modifier off at any time. You can't switch it back on afterwards, and a modifier you've turned off – or turned down – pays nothing at the end. No run can ever trap you.

COMBAT

MODIFIER	LEVELS	POINTS	WHAT IT DOES
Weak Zombies	10 / 20 / 30%	1 • 2 • 3	Your zombies have lower stats. Concentration is unaffected.
Bad Teamwork	2 / 4 / 6	2 • 3 • 4	You can take fewer zombies into an invasion.
Iron Zombie	on	3	No revives. A zombie that dies is gone.
Forgetful Zombies	50 / 100%	1 • 2	Veterancy gives a smaller bonus. Master+ ranks are unaffected.

ECONOMY

MODIFIER	LEVELS	POINTS	WHAT IT DOES
Poor Enemies	25 / 50 / 75%	2 • 3 • 4	Invasions pay less gold.
Long Road	1.25 / 1.5 / 1.75 / 2	1 • 2 • 3 • 4	Every level takes more experience.

MODIFIER	LEVELS	POINTS	WHAT IT DOES
Expensive Vouchers	1 / 2 / 3	1 • 2 • 3	Invasion Vouchers cost 2,500 / 3,000 / 3,500 gold and Brain Tickets 11,000 / 12,000 / 13,000.

YOUR FARM

MODIFIER	LEVELS	POINTS	WHAT IT DOES
Bare Earth	on	3	Your farm shrinks back to its starting size and everything on it is stored for you. Any farm size you've bought with prestige points still applies.

With everything switched on and a reset at level 45, a single run is worth 36 points. A run with no modifiers, cashed in at level 40, is worth 5.

UPGRADES

What points buy

Upgrades are permanent. Once bought, they apply to this farm and every farm you start after it. Each rank costs more than the last.

PERMANENT UPGRADES

UPGRADE	EACH RANK	RANKS	COST PER RANK
Quicker Invasions	Cuts the invasion cooldown: 2h • 1½h • 1h • 30m • 15m	4	6 • 10 • 16 • 25
Master Ranks	Raises the veterancy ceiling to Master +1 • +4, at 10, 20, 30 and 40 invasions survived. Each rank is +5% to all stats.	4	5 • 8 • 12 • 18
More Zombies	+2 zombies can live on your farm. Doesn't change how many you can take into an invasion.	5	2 • 3 • 5 • 8 • 12
Bigger Farm	+10 tiles, on top of whatever size you've bought in the Market.	3	4 • 8 • 16
Brain Fortune	Brains turn up more often from invasions.	4	3 • 5 • 8 • 12
Quick Feet	Your farmer walks 10% faster.	3	2 • 4 • 7
Rare Fortune	Better odds on rare zombies. Coming soon.	â€”	â€”

Buying every rank of everything costs 199 points somewhere around fifteen to eighteen prestiges, depending on how hard you like to make things.
